

Licence
for computer application software
Tertus Document

The subject of the Licence shall consist in granting the User a right to use the Tertus Document computer application software (hereinafter referred to as the Application) created by AEON Co., Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Licensor) in accordance with the following provisions hereof. The right to use the Application shall be granted on the following terms:

1. The User shall be obliged to read the Licence prior to installing the Application.
2. The Licensor shall award the User an exclusive and non-transferable Licence to use the Application for the User's own purposes on the User's own computer or on a computer that is used by the User.
3. The User shall obtain possession of the Application only from the Licensor.
4. The number of computers on which the User shall have the right to install the Application shall be equal to the number of licences the User received from the Licensor.
5. Taking possession of the Application in a way other than the one provided for herein shall constitute a violation of copyright and shall entail civil or criminal liability. In particular, any person that commits the violations contemplated in the preceding sentence shall be obliged to redress any direct or indirect damage suffered by the Licensor, including lost profits, and may be prosecuted.
6. Should the User take possession of an illegal version of the Application, distribute it in an unlawful way or violate the conditions hereof in a material way, the Licence granted to the User shall expire and the User shall not have the right to make any claims and shall be obliged to cover any and all losses suffered by the Licensor on account thereof.
7. The User undertakes not to modify the Application (or any part thereof) or adjust, translate or transfer it to any legal or natural persons, lend for use (lease, loan for use) and shall not make the Application available in any other way without the written consent of the Licensor.
8. The Licensor reserves the right to further develop the Application. Updated versions of the Application shall be distributed free of charge by the Licensor by electronic means. The new major versions of the Application shall require that a new licence be obtained.
9. The Licensor shall not be liable for any damage caused by using or not being able to use the Application, including direct and indirect damage and lost profits. In particular, the Licensor does not guarantee that the Application will meet all the expectations of the User with regard to the functionality of the Application and its functioning.
10. The License shall be granted for an unlimited period of time.
11. The User represents that the electronic addresses indicated in the order presented below as well as indicated in the future may also be used to send commercial information as defined in applicable provisions of law.
12. The User consents to the use of the company name of the User for marketing purposes, including by disclosing the information that the User uses the Application in a lawful manner. This section shall only relate to entrepreneurs.
